

Healthy Attitude Towards Money & Abundance!

Let's examine people's comments on how they feel about money as according to the law of attraction! thinking negatively about money can be a barrier between you and your cash flow!

Money is important because it shows how successful and powerful you are.

How do you feel about the above statement:

The above statement is viewing the importance of money perhaps in a egotistic way.

YES: There are people who are egotistic and may have forgotten that money is there to serve our needs and not to feed our ego and to make us feel egotistically successful and powerful.

On the other hand being Successful and Powerful is not a bad thing if it is used from Empathy and Compassion, to improve things and to serve society.

I'd rather save money than spend it.

How do you feel about the above statement:

Money is to meet your needs if you are using it first to pay your:

- Rent
- Bills, Keep warm
- Look after yourself in general
- To eat healthy etc.

Then you are saving for whatever reason e.g to buy your own house or car or to go on holidays etc, that's healthy however if your just saving for the sake of saving and treating money like it's your god then it has to be said it is not a healthy thing. Everything has a purpose.

With enough money, you can do whatever you want.

How do you feel about the above statement:

It's fair to say that with enough money you can more or less do what you want. It definitely gives you more options.

I often demonstrate my love to people by buying them things.

How do you feel about the above statement:

There is nothing wrong with demonstrating your love to people by buying them something they needs or to show as a gesture of how appreciative you are for what they may have done for you or just for a random act of kindness.

However it is also important to remember you cannot buy love and you also want to show your love in other ways e.g spending time together, being helpful and supportive in other ways. You don't want people to love you just for your money either.

The best thing about money is that it means it can influence others.

How do you feel about the above statement:

To be fair it's wrong to say that's the best thing about money! The best thing would be that it can help feed, clothe and cure poor children.

What kind people would be influenced by money anyways?...Will these people have values?.....

REMEMBER: Your noble attitude and values can also influence the right people to do the right thing/job.

It is important to have savings, you never know when you might need the money.

How do you feel about the above statement:

Can't argue about the above statement, every wise man saves for a rainy day.

However I would not save with emphasis on a Rainy Day!

I would rather save with the idea "You never know when your going to get a positive opportunity!"

REMEMBER: If your going to put a thought out there it might as well be a positive one! No one really wants to put vibes out for a rainy day!

I am very generous with the people I love.

How do you feel about the above statement:

However it is also important to remember you cannot buy love and that you also want to show love in other ways e.g spending time together, being helpful and supportive in other ways. You don't want people to love you just for your money either.

The main point of earning money is to feel free and be free.

How do you feel about the above statement:

The main point of earning money is to be independent and to take care of our needs and then our wants too. So that we do feel free. Free enough to do that random act of kindness with cash! too.

(Random acts of kindness can be in many forms and remember to do them whenever an opportunity comes your way).

I am sometimes puzzled where all of my money goes.

How do you feel about the above statement:

Don't be puzzled the more your mind thinks your money is leaking more it is likely to leak!

However the more you think there is enough! there will always be enough!

If you want to feel rich, just count the things you have that money cannot buy.

How do you feel about the above statement:

Very True!

Abundance comes from appreciating and being grateful for all you already have.

Conclusion:

Many people can be brainwashed from young life that money can be evil! This can act as a barrier between you and the cash flow throughout your life.

REMEMBER: Cash earned through the right moral's cannot be bad, providing it is also spent with right Moral's it can provide humanity with:

- Nutrition & Health Care
- Education & Future
- Shelter and Security
- Opportunity

and much much more!

Most Important thing is that we don't let the cash or the material things become our identity

We must always know who we are (our values) with or without the cash!
